I am very glad to hear that you are well and hope you will continue to improve. I have been thinking much lately about the future and how we can best prepare ourselves for it. It seems to me that the most important thing is to have a good education and to develop our minds and bodies. We should also try to live a simple and virtuous life, and to help others as much as we can. These are the things that will make us truly happy and successful in the end.
 I am sure that if we all follow these principles, we can build a better world for ourselves and for generations to come.
